The height of the cistern of the barometer is 159 feet above the mean level of the sea; no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations are usually taken at 9h. A.M.; noon; 3h. P.M.; and 9h. P.M. The means of the eye-readings of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer, are converted into mean daily values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1873 for the barometer, and during the twenty years ending 1868 for the thermometers. With the corrected mean reading of the dry bulb thermometer is combined the corrected mean of the readings of the maximum and minimum thermometers, forming the mean daily value of temperature of the air (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glashier's Hydro-metrical Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 20 years ending 1868, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 16 years ending 1875.

In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and - "lower," than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are:—P. positive; N. negative; w. weak; m. moderate; s. strong; and v. variable.

The numbers in column 22, derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.

On the 18th, the barometer fell to 29.95 in. by 3h. P.M., on the 21st to 29.97 in. by 9h. P.M., on the 18th, decreased to 29.72 in. by 3h. P.M., on the 21st, increased to 29.97 in.

TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS.

The deaths registered last week in TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS of England and Wales corresponded to an annual rate of 15·9 per 1000 of their aggregate population, which is estimated at *9,398,273 persons in the middle of this year. The deaths registered in each of the last four weeks in the several towns, alphabetically arranged, corresponded to the following annual rates per 1000 :—

The highest annual death-rates, measured by last week's mortality, were: from measles, 1·1 in Bradford; from scarlet fever, 1·4 in Bolton and in Cardiff; from whooping-cough, 1·0 in Cardiff, 1·3 in Halifax, 1·4 in Manchester, and 2·3 in Salford. The death-rate from "fever" did not reach 1·0 per 1000 in any of the twenty-eight towns. The 34 deaths from diphtheria in these towns included 28 in London, and 3 in Leeds. Small-pox caused 11 deaths in Preston, 3 in Sheffield, and one in Hull, but not one in any of the twenty-four other great provincial towns, or in London.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2289 BIRTHS and 1238 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 446, and the deaths 261, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 14·9, 14·2, and 14·5 in the preceding three weeks, rose last week to 15·1. In the thirteen weeks of last quarter the death-rate averaged 16·9 per 1,000, which was 3·0 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878-87.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

† Including the Strand Union Workhouse at Edmonton, the Holborn Union Workhouse at Mitcham, and the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals outside Registration London.

The 1238 deaths included 20 from measles, 19 from scarlet fever, 28 from diphtheria, 27 from whooping-cough, 10 from enteric fever, 36 from diarrhoea and dysentery, 2 from cholera and choleraic diarrhoea, and not one from small-pox, typhus, or any ill-defined form of continued fever; thus, 142 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 124 below the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 19. There were only 2 patients under treatment for this disease in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, and not any in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital, on Saturday last. The deaths from measles, which had declined from 25 to 18 in the preceding three weeks, rose to 20 last week, but were 45 below the corrected average; 3 belonged to Paddington, and 4 to Kensington sanitary areas. The fatal cases of scarlet fever, which had fallen from 23 to 10 in the preceding three weeks, rose to 19 last week, but were 9 below the corrected average; 3 belonged to Bethnal Green, 3 to Mile End Old Town, and 3 to Poplar sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals and the London Fever Hospital contained 925 scarlet fever patients, against 928, 904, and 895 on the preceding three Saturdays; 98 cases were admitted during the week, against 102, 72, and 81 in the previous three weeks. The deaths from diphtheria, which had declined from 26 to 15 in the preceding four weeks, rose last week to 28, and were 13 above the corrected average; 4 belonged to Paddington, 2 to Kensington, 3 to St. George Hanover Square, 2 to Westminster, 2 to Islington, 2 to Shoreditch, 2 to Stepney, 2 to Lambeth, and 2 to Plumstead sanitary areas. The deaths from whooping-cough, which had been 34 and 33 in the previous two weeks, fell to 27 last week, and were 36 below the corrected average; 3 belonged to Islington, 3 to Bethnal Green, and 3 to Camberwell sanitary areas. The deaths from diarrhoea and dysentery, which had numbered 16 and 18 in the preceding two weeks, rose last week to 36, but were 22 below the corrected average; 21 were of infants under one year of age. The death of a child, aged one year, was referred to "cholera sporadica," and that of a man, aged 41 years, to "choleraic diarrhoea."

The deaths from enteric fever, which had risen from 8 to 15 in the previous two weeks, declined last week to 10, and were 2 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Poplar sanitary area. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 90 cases of enteric fever, but not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 18 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had declined from 213 to 184 in the preceding two weeks, further fell last week to 156, and were 67 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 64 deaths; 54 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 20 from fractures and contusions, 3 from burns and scalds, 6 from drowning, 3 from poison, and 19 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 20 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—5 by accidents from vehicles in the streets; 2 by accidents on railways; 10 by fall from window, down stairs, and otherwise; 1 by injury while at play; 1 crushed by machinery; 1 by fracture, the cause of which was not stated. An inquest was held in each of these 20 cases, except in one of the deaths by falls. Nine cases of suicide were recorded, corresponding with the corrected average.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3032 births and 1530 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 28·6 and 14·4 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 4 deaths from scarlet fever, 4 from whooping-cough, and 3 from diphtheria, were registered. Two deaths from scarlet fever occurred in Willesden sub-district, and 2 from whooping-cough in Wimbledon sub-district.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·59 in.; the highest reading was 29·91 in. at the beginning of the week, and the lowest 29·35 in. on Friday afternoon. The mean temperature of the air was 61°·9, agreeing with the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean showed an excess on the first three days of the week, notably on Monday, but was below the average on the remaining days. The general direction of the wind was South-westerly, and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 10·2 miles per hour, which was one-tenth of a mile below the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on five days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 2·37 inches. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 29·9 hours, against 34·1 hours at Glynede Place, Lewes.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylums Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly Deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.045 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ Those cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

§ The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

The height of the cistern of the barometer is 159 feet above the mean level of the sea; no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations are usually taken at 9h. A.M.; noon; 3h. P.M.; and 9h. P.M. The means of the readings of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer, are converted into mean daily values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1873 for the barometer, and during the twenty years ending 1868 for the thermometers. With the corrected mean reading of the dry bulb thermometer is combined the corrected mean of the readings of the maximum and minimum thermometers, forming the mean daily value of temperature of the air (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glaisher's Hygro-metrical Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 20 years ending 1868, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 16 years ending 1875.

In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and - "lower," than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are: - P. positive; N. negative; w. weak; m. moderate; s. strong; and V. variable.

The numbers in column 29, derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the middle of the day or from midnight to midnight.

The reading of the barometer decreased from 29.1 in. at the beginning of the week to 29.35 in.

The highest annual death-rates, measured by last week's mortality, were:—from measles, 1·3 in Wolverhampton; from whooping-cough, 1·4 in Cardiff and 1·7 in Manchester; and from "fever" 1·1 in Derby. The death-rate from scarlet fever did not reach 1·0 per 1000 in any of the twenty-eight towns. The 33 deaths from diphtheria in these towns included 29 in London. Small-pox caused 7 deaths in Preston and one in Bradford, but not one in any of the twenty-five other large provincial towns, or in London.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2348 BIRTHS and 1211 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 332, and the deaths 372, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 14·5 and 15·1 in the preceding two weeks, declined again last week to 14·8. During the thirteen weeks of last quarter the death-rate averaged 16·9 per 1,000, which was 3·0 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878–87.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

† Including the Strand Union Workhouse at Edmonton, the Holborn Union Workhouse at Mitcham, and the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals outside Registration London.

The 1211 deaths included 23 from measles, 10 from scarlet fever, 29 from diphtheria, 31 from whooping-cough, 7 from enteric fever, 2 from ill-defined forms of continued fever, 51 from diarrhoea and dysentery, 3 from cholera and choleraic diarrhoea, and not one from small-pox or from typhus; thus, 156 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 175 below the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 17. The 23 fatal cases of measles showed a slight increase upon recent weekly numbers, but were 40 below the corrected average. The deaths from scarlet fever, which had been 10 and 19 in the two preceding weeks, declined again last week to 10, and were 23 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Hackney, 2 to Bethnal Green, and 3 to Poplar sanitary areas. The 29 deaths from diphtheria showed a further slight increase upon recent weekly numbers, and exceeded the corrected average by 16; 4 belonged to Kensington, 4 to Pancras, 3 to Clerkenwell, 3 to Lambeth, 2 to Camberwell, and 2 to Plumstead sanitary areas. The 31 fatal cases of whooping-cough were 28 below the corrected average. The 7 deaths referred to enteric fever were fewer than in any recent week, and were 6 below the corrected average; 4 belonged to Poplar sanitary area. The deaths attributed to diarrhoea and dysentery, which had been 16, 18, and 36 in the three preceding weeks, further rose last week to 51, but were 73 below the corrected average. Three deaths were referred to simple cholera or choleraic diarrhoea.

In the above Table all deaths in Hospitals and in other Public Institutions within Registration London, as also 32 that occurred, outside that area, in the Strand Union Workhouse at Edmonton, the Holborn Union Workhouse at Mitcham, and the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals have been distributed to the sanitary areas from which the deceased inmates were admitted. On the other hand the deaths of 277 non-residents who died in Public Institutions inside London have been excluded from the Table.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3130 births and 1502 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 29·5 and 14·2 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 6 deaths from diphtheria, and 6 from whooping-cough, were registered. The fatal cases of diphtheria included 2 in Tottenham and 2 in Walthamstow sub-districts.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·57 in.; the highest readings were 29·88 in. on Sunday evening and at the end of the week, and the lowest was 29·31 in. on Wednesday evening. The mean temperature of the air was 56°·4, and 5°·2 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean was considerably below the average throughout the week, the coldest days being Monday, Friday and Saturday. The general direction of the wind was South-westerly, and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 12·2 miles per hour, which was 2·0 miles above the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on six days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0·90 inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 18·5 hours, against 24·2 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

THE REGISTRAR GENERAL has to acknowledge the courtesy of the LONDON WATER COMPANIES who have furnished him with the average daily quantity of Water supplied during the month of JUNE 1888; according to their returns 175,570,123 gallons or 797,695  $\frac{1}{2}$  cubic metres of water (equal to about as many tuns by measure, tons by weight,) were supplied daily; or 237 gallons (107·7 decalitres), rather more than a ton by weight, to each house, and 30·4 gallons (13·8 decalitres) to each person, against 31·7 gallons during June 1887.

ANALYSIS OF METROPOLITAN WATER SUPPLY DURING JUNE.

Grove House, Pembroke Square, W.,
6th July, 1888.

SIR,

I HAVE to report to you in the following Table the results of the chemical analyses of the waters supplied to the inner, and portions of the outer, circle of the Metropolis during the month of June.

I append, also, the results obtained in the analyses of the waters supplied to Birmingham and Glasgow by their respective Corporations. These analyses were made by Dr. Hill of Birmingham and Dr. Mills of Glasgow.

Taking the average amount of organic impurity contained in a given volume of the Kent Company's water during the nine years ending December 1876 as unity, the proportional amount contained in an equal volume of water supplied by each of the Metropolitan Water Companies and by the Tottenham Local Board of Health, was:—Kent 0·6, New River 1·2, Tottenham 1·3, Grand Junction 1·4, Southwark 1·7, West Middlesex 1·8, Chelsea 1·8, Lambeth 2·0, Colne Valley 2·2, East London 2·4.

The Thames water sent out by the Chelsea, West Middlesex, Southwark, Grand Junction, and Lambeth Companies again exhibited a further reduction in the proportion of contained organic matter, which was unusually small in all the samples examined. All the samples were clear and bright.

Of the water principally drawn from the Lea, that distributed by the New River Company contained less and that by the East London Company slightly more organic matter than the Thames supplies. Both samples were clear and bright.

The deep-well water pumped by the Kent Company and by the Tottenham Local Board of Health contained, as usual, only a very small proportion of organic matter, whilst in the sample of the Colne Valley Company's supply the organic matter was distinctly in excess of the average for this water. The Colne Valley Company's water was softened as usual before delivery.

Seen through a stratum two feet deep, the waters presented the following appearances:—Kent and Tottenham, clear and colourless; Colne Valley and New River, clear and nearly colourless; Chelsea, West Middlesex, Southwark, Grand Junction, Lambeth, and East London, clear and very pale yellow.

Dr. Hill, F.I.C., the Medical Officer of Health for Birmingham, reports that the water supplied to that town "contained a little more organic matter than in the previous month."

Dr. Mills, F.R.S., of the Glasgow and West of Scotland Technical College reports that the water supplied to that city from Loch Katrine was "light brown in colour and contained a little suspended matter."

* Analysed by Dr. Alfred Hill, F.I.C., Medical Officer of Health and Analyst to the Borough.

† Analysed by Dr. E. J. Mills, F.R.S., of the Glasgow and West of Scotland Technical College.

The numbers in columns 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, and 11, all relate to 100,000 parts of the waters. The Table is to be read thus:—the Chelsea Company's water, collected on the 12th June at the Horseguards cab-rank, had a temperature of 16°·5 C.; 100,000 lbs. of it contained 24·14 lbs. of solid matter; the organic substances, constituting a portion of this matter, contained ·086 lb. of carbon and ·021 lb. of nitrogen. The above quantity of water also contained no ammonia, and ·163 lb. of nitrogen in the form of nitrates and nitrites, whilst the total amount of combined nitrogen in every form was ·184 lb. The above weight of water also contained 1·7 lbs. of chlorine; and 17·1 lbs. of carbonate of lime, or an equivalent quantity of other hardening or soap-destroying ingredients.

The numbers in the analytical Table can be converted into grains per imperial gallon by multiplying them by 7, and then moving the decimal point one place to the left. The same operation transforms the hardness in the Table into degrees of hardness on Clark's scale.

RE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylums Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).
 * The numbers in this column are the average weekly Deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9-045 per cent. for increase of population.
 † The ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.
 ‡ These cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered medical attendant, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."
 § Evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

The highest annual death-rates, measured by last week's mortality, were :—from measles, 1·4 in Bradford; from whooping-cough, 1·1 in Derby; and from diarrhoea, 1·4 in Bradford, 1·5 in Preston, 1·8 in Leicester, and 3·2 in Bolton. The death-rates from scarlet fever and from "fever" did not reach 1·0 per 1000 in any of the twenty-eight towns. The 36 deaths from diphtheria in these towns included 24 in London, and 2 in Manchester. Small-pox caused 6 deaths in Preston, 2 in Sheffield, one in Bolton, one in Leeds, and one in London, but not one in any of the twenty-three other great towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2520 BIRTHS and 1288 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 205, and the deaths 460, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 14·2, 14·5, 15·1, and 14·8 in the four preceding weeks, rose last week to 15·7. During the thirteen weeks of last quarter the death-rate averaged 16·9 per 1,000, and was 3·0 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878–87.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

† Including the Strand Union Workhouse at Edmonton, the Holborn Union Workhouse at Mitcham, and the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals outside Registration London.

The 1288 deaths included 1 from small-pox, 26 from measles, 18 from scarlet fever, 24 from diphtheria, 32 from whooping-cough, 12 from enteric fever, 1 from an undefined form of continued fever, 72 from diarrhoea and dysentery, and 3 from cholera and choleraic diarrhoea; thus, 189 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 271 below the corrected average weekly number.

One death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 11; this death occurred in the Hospital Ship in the Thames off Dartford, and was of a labourer admitted from the Casual Ward of the St. Pancras Union Workhouse. There were only 2 patients under treatment for this disease in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, and not any in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital, on Saturday last. The deaths from measles, which had been 18, 20, and 23 in the three preceding weeks, further rose last week to 26, but were 32 below the corrected average; 4 belonged to Poplar sanitary area. The fatal cases of scarlet fever, which had been 19 and 10 in the two preceding weeks, rose again last week to 18, but were 14 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Westminster, 4 to Pancras (including 2 hospital cases admitted from 41 Sandwich Street), 3 to Bethnal Green, and 3 to Lambeth sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum and London Fever Hospitals contained 890 scarlet fever patients, against 895, 924, and 897 on the three preceding Saturdays; 103 cases were admitted during the week, against 81, 98, and 81 in the three previous weeks. The deaths from diphtheria, which had been 28 and 29 in the two preceding weeks, declined last week to 24, but exceeded the corrected average by 10; 2 belonged to Paddington, 2 to Kensington, 2 to Pancras, 3 to Lambeth, 2 to Battersea, and 2 to Wandsworth sanitary areas. The fatal cases of whooping-cough rose to 32, from 27 and 31 in the two previous weeks, but were 28 below the corrected average; 15 belonged to the South London sanitary areas. The deaths attributed to diarrhoea and dysentery, which had steadily increased in the four preceding weeks from 16 to 51, further rose last week to 72, but were 183 below the corrected average; 60 were of infants aged under one year. The 3 deaths referred to simple cholera or choleraic diarrhoea, were all of infants aged under one year.

The deaths from enteric fever, which had been 10 and 7 in the two previous weeks, rose last week to 12, but were 2 below the corrected average; 3 belonged to Pancras and 2 to Poplar sanitary areas. The death of an adult female in Islington was indefinitely referred to continued fever. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 82 cases of enteric fever, but not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 5 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 156 and 176 in the two preceding weeks, declined again last week to 164, and were 43 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 56 deaths; 45 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 28 from fractures and contusions, 6 from drowning, and 7 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 28 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—7 by accidents from vehicles in the streets; 2 by accidents on railways; 3 by fall from window; 2 by fall into area; 2 by fall down stairs; 2 by fall from perambulator; 1 by fall into ship's hold; 1 by fall from plank; 1 by fall in street; 3 by fall in room; 2 by fall, the nature of which was not stated; 1 by injury from machinery; and 1 by fracture, the cause of which was not stated. An inquest was held in each of these 28 cases. Eight cases of suicide were recorded, the corrected average being 9.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3288 births and 1563 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 31·0 and 14·8 per 1000 of the estimated population. In the Outer Ring 13 deaths from diphtheria, and 6 from whooping-cough, were registered. The fatal cases of diphtheria included 4 in West Ham sub-district.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·80 in.; the lowest reading was 29·50 in. on Wednesday morning and the highest was 29·94 in. on Friday morning. The mean temperature of the air was 55·8, and 7°·0 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean was below the average on each day of the week, the coldest days being Wednesday and Thursday, when the deficiency of temperature was 14°·9 and 13°·4 respectively. The general direction of the wind was N.W., and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 11·2 miles per hour, which was 1·5 miles above the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on four days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0·44 of an inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 23·2 hours, against 26·6 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylums Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly Deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.045 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ Those cases of small-pox only are averaged as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

† The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

The height of the cistern of the barometer is 159 feet above the mean level of the sea; no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations are usually taken at 9h. A.M.; noon; 3h. P.M.; and 9h. P.M. The means of the eye-readings of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer, are converted into mean daily values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1873 for the barometer, and during the twenty years ending 1868 for the thermometers. With the corrected mean reading of the dry bulb thermometer is combined the corrected mean of the readings of the maximum and minimum thermometers, forming the mean daily value of temperature of the air (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glaisher's Hygro-metrical Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 20 years ending 1868, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 16 years ending 1873.

In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and - "lower," than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are:—P. positive; N. negative; w. weak; m. moderate; s. strong; and v. variable.

The numbers in column 29, derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.

The reading of the barometer increased from 29.58 in. at the beginning of the week to 29.90 in.

The highest annual death-rates, measured by last week's mortality, were :—from measles, 1·1 in Bradford; from scarlet fever, 1·3 in Blackburn; from whooping-cough, 1·1 in Derby, 1·3 in Wolverhampton, and 2·6 in Halifax; from "fever," 1·9 in Cardiff; and from diarrhœa, 1·0 in Newcastle-upon-Tyne and 1·1 in Portsmouth. The 23 deaths from diphtheria in these towns included 15 in London, and 3 in Manchester. Small-pox caused one death in London, one in Bristol, one in Preston, 2 in Sheffield, and one in Hull, but not one in any of the twenty-three other great towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2385 BIRTHS and 1297 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 374, and the deaths 539, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had slowly increased in the five preceding weeks from 14·2 to 15·7, further rose last week to 15·8. During the first three weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 15·4 per 1,000, and was 5·7 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878-87.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

† Including the Strand Union Workhouse at Edmonton, the Holborn Union Workhouse at Mitcham, and the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals outside Registration London.

The 1297 deaths included 1 from small-pox, 25 from measles, 14 from scarlet fever, 15 from diphtheria, 33 from whooping-cough, 8 from enteric fever, 62 from diarrhœa and dysentery, 2 from choleraic diarrhœa, and not one either from typhus or ill-defined forms of continued fever; thus, 160 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 388 below the corrected average weekly number.

One death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 11; this death occurred in the Hospital Ship in the Thames, off Dartford, and was of the daughter of a prison warder, admitted from Wandsworth. There were only 2 patients under treatment for this disease in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, and not any in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital, on Saturday last. The deaths from measles, which had increased in the four preceding weeks from 18 to 26, were last week 25, and were 31 below the corrected average; 5 belonged to Clerkenwell, 3 to Paddington, and 3 to Hampstead sanitary areas. The 14 fatal cases of scarlet fever showed a decline of 4 from the number in the previous week, and were 18 below the corrected average; 3 belonged to Shoreditch, 2 to Bethnal Green, and 2 to Poplar sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum and London Fever Hospitals contained 889 scarlet fever patients, against 924, 897, and 890 on the three preceding Saturdays; 105 cases were admitted during the week, against 81 and 103 in the two previous weeks. The deaths from diphtheria, which had been 29 and 24 in the two preceding weeks, further declined last week to 15, and were one below the corrected average; 4 belonged to Pancras, and 2 to Wandsworth sanitary areas. The fatal cases of whooping-cough rose to 33, from 27, 31, and 32 in the three previous weeks, but were 28 below the corrected average; 7 belonged to Pancras sanitary area. The deaths attributed to diarrhœa and dysentery, which had steadily increased in the five preceding weeks from 16 to 72, declined last week to 62, and were 284 below the corrected average; 46 were of infants under one year of age. The 2 deaths referred to choleraic diarrhœa were also of infants under one year of age.

The deaths from enteric fever, which had been 7 and 12 in the two preceding weeks, declined again last week to 8, and were 3 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Hackney, and 2 to Poplar sanitary areas. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 81 cases of enteric fever, but not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 9 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week, against 5 in the previous week.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 176 and 164 in the two preceding weeks, were last week 166, and 25 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 54 deaths; 49 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 13 from fractures and contusions, 5 from burns and scalds, 10 from drowning, 3 from poison, and 11 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 13 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—6 by accidents from vehicles in streets; 1 by accident on railway; 1 by fall from loft; 2 by fall from bed; 1 by injury from lift; and 2 by blow on head. An inquest was held in each of these 13 cases. The death of a child, aged 3 years, was referred to circumcision. Five cases of suicide were registered, the corrected average being 9.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3127 births and 1589 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 29·5 and 15·0 per 1000 of the estimated population. In the Outer Ring 11 deaths were referred to whooping-cough, 10 to diarrhœa, and 7 to diphtheria. The fatal cases of diphtheria included 3 in Croydon and 2 in Walthamstow sub-districts.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·53 in.; the lowest reading was 29·26 in. on Monday afternoon, and the highest was 29·76 in. at noon on Friday. The mean temperature of the air was 59°·4, and 4°·5 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean temperature was below the average on each day of the week, the deficiency declining, however, from 7°·8 on Sunday, to 1°·8 on Saturday. The direction of the wind was variable, and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 8·3 miles per hour, which was 1·3 miles below the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on six days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 1·61 inches. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 11·8 hours, against 10·7 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylums Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.048 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ Those cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

§ The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

The 35 deaths from diphtheria in these twenty-eight towns included 21 in London, 4 in Liverpool, 4 in Manchester, and 2 in Sunderland. Small-pox caused 3 deaths in Preston, but not one in any of the twenty-seven other great towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2353 BIRTHS and 1308 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 440, and the deaths 573, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 15·7 and 15·8 in the two preceding weeks, further rose last week to 15·9. During the first four weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 15·6 per 1000, and was 6·0 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878–87.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

† Including the Strand Union Workhouse at Edmonton, the Holborn Union Workhouse at Mitcham, and the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals outside Registration London.

The 1308 deaths included 40 from measles, 23 from scarlet fever, 21 from diphtheria, 20 from whooping-cough, 15 from enteric fever, 1 from an undefined form of continued fever, 89 from diarrhœa and dysentery, 4 from cholera and choleraic diarrhœa, and not one from small-pox or typhus; thus, 223 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 354 below the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 10; only 2 small-pox patients were in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals on Saturday last. The fatal cases of measles, which had been 26 and 25 in the two preceding weeks, rose last week to 40, but were 13 below the corrected average; 3 belonged to Clerkenwell, 4 to Shoreditch, 3 to St. George-in-the-East, 4 to Poplar, and 3 to Battersea sanitary areas. The 23 deaths from scarlet fever also showed an increase upon recent weekly numbers, but were 17 below the corrected average; 4 belonged to Bethnal Green (including 3 cases admitted to the Metropolitan Asylum Hospital at Homerton from 7B, Pitt Street), 4 to Lambeth, and 2 to Battersea sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum and London Fever Hospitals contained 861 scarlet fever patients, against numbers declining on the four preceding Saturdays from 924 to 889; 87 cases were admitted during the week, against 103 and 105 in the two previous weeks. The fatal cases of diphtheria, which had been 29, 24, and 15 in the three preceding weeks, rose again last week to 21, and exceeded the corrected average by 6; 2 belonged to Islington, 3 to Hackney, 3 to Brixton, 2 to Wandsworth, and 3 to Camberwell. The 30 deaths from whooping-cough were 27 below the corrected average; 4 belonged to Hackney and 4 to Camberwell sanitary area. The deaths attributed to diarrhœa and dysentery, which had been 72 and 62 in the two previous weeks, rose last week to 89, but were 283 below the corrected average; 83 were of children under five years of age, including 68 of infants under one year of age. The deaths of 3 infants were referred to infantile cholera or choleraic diarrhœa; and the death of a male adult in Pancras to "English cholera."

The deaths from enteric fever, which had been 12 and 8 in the two preceding weeks, rose last week to 15, and corresponded with the corrected average; 2 belonged to Pancras, 2 to Hackney, 2 to Shoreditch, and 2 to Poplar sanitary areas. The death of an adult female, in St. George-in-the-East, was indefinitely referred to "continued fever." The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 84 cases of enteric fever, but not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 10 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week, against 5 and 9 in the two previous weeks.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 176, 164, and 166 in the three preceding weeks, declined last week to 160, and were 28 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 63 deaths; 49 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 25 from fractures and contusions, 11 from drowning, and 6 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 25 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—6 by accidents from vehicles in the street; 1 by accident on railway; 2 by fall downstairs; 1 by fall from perambulator; 1 by fall from scaffold; 1 by fall from roof; 1 by fall from gate-pier; 1 by fall from chair; 1 by fall from table; 5 by fall, the nature of which was not stated; 2 by fall of heavy substance; 1 knocked down by boys in street; and 2 by fracture, the cause of which was not stated. An inquest was held in each of these 25 cases. Twelve cases of suicide were registered, the corrected average being 8.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3062 births and 1570 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 28·9 and 14·8 per 1000 of the estimated population. In the Outer Ring 11 deaths from whooping-cough, and 7 from diarrhœa, were registered. Whooping-cough caused 3 deaths in Tottenham, diarrhœa 3 in West Ham, and diphtheria 2 in Walthamstow sub-districts.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·54 in.; the highest reading was 29·73 in. at the beginning of the week, and the lowest 29·29 in. on Saturday morning. The mean temperature of the air was 60°·3, and 2°·4 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean corresponded with the average on Sunday, but showed a considerable deficiency on each of the other days of the week. The general direction of the wind was S.W., and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 13·7 miles per hour, which was 3·9 miles above the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on each day of the week, to the aggregate amount of 1·11 of an inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 34·8 hours, against 22·2 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9·045 per cent. for increase of population.

† Those cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

‡ The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS.

The deaths registered last week in TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS of England and Wales corresponded to an annual rate of 16·0 per 1000 of their aggregate population, which is estimated at *9,398,273 persons in the middle of this year. The deaths registered in each of the last four weeks in the several towns, alphabetically arranged, corresponded to the following annual rates per 1000 :—

The highest annual death-rates, measured by last week's mortality, were:—from measles, 1·3 in Wolverhampton and 1·8 in Leicester; from scarlet fever, 1·1 in Huddersfield and 1·8 in Blackburn; from whooping-cough, 1·0 in Birmingham, 1·1 in Norwich and in Manchester, and 1·3 in Halifax; from "fever," 1·0 in Birkenhead; and from diarrhœa, 1·9 in Leeds, 2·0 in Liverpool and in Preston, 2·5 in Leicester, and 2·6 in Sheffield. The 27 deaths from diphtheria in these twenty-eight towns included 19 in London and 3 in Manchester. Small-pox caused 2 deaths in Preston, one in Oldham, one in Sheffield, and one in Hull, but not one in London or in any of the twenty-three other great towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2530 BIRTHS and 1309 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 87, and the deaths 473, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 15·7, 15·8, and 15·9 in the three preceding weeks, was again 15·9 last week. During the first five weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 15·6 per 1000, and was 6·0 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878–87.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

† Including the Strand Union Workhouse at Edmonton, the Holborn Union Workhouse at Mitcham, and the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals outside Registration London.

The 1309 deaths included 29 from measles, 18 from scarlet fever, 19 from diphtheria, 25 from whooping-cough, 9 from enteric fever, 121 from diarrhœa and dysentery, 4 from cholera and choleraic diarrhœa, and not one from small-pox, typhus, or ill-defined forms of continued fever; thus, 225 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 278 below the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 9; only 2 small-pox patients were under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals on Saturday last, and not one in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The fatal cases of measles, which had been 25 and 40 in the two preceding weeks, declined again last week to 29, and were 21 below the corrected average; 5 belonged to Pancras, and 4 to Clerkenwell sanitary areas. The 18 deaths from scarlet fever showed a decline of 5 from the number in the previous week, and were 19 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Pancras, 3 to Islington, 2 to Battersea, and 2 to Greenwich sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum and London Fever Hospitals contained 828 scarlet fever patients, against numbers declining in the four preceding weeks from 924 to 861; 73 cases were admitted during the week, against 105 and 87 in the two previous weeks. The fatal cases of diphtheria, which had been 15 and 21 in the two preceding weeks, were last week 19, and exceeded the corrected average by 7; 3 belonged to Pancras, 2 to Marylebone, 2 to Lambeth, and 2 to Battersea sanitary areas. The 25 deaths from whooping-cough showed a further decline from recent weekly numbers, and were 25 below the corrected average; 4 belonged to Lambeth sanitary area. The deaths attributed to diarrhœa and dysentery, which had been 62 and 89 in the two previous weeks, further rose last week to 121, but were 195 below the corrected average; 116 were of children under five years of age, including 105 of infants under one year of age. The deaths of 4 infants under two years of age were referred to infantile cholera or choleraic diarrhœa.

The deaths from enteric fever, which had been 8 and 15 in the two preceding weeks, declined again last week to 9, and were 4 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Poplar sanitary area. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 79 cases of enteric fever, but not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 6 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week, against 9 and 10 in the two previous weeks.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 166 and 160 in the two preceding weeks, rose last week to 167, but were 25 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 49 deaths; 42 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 17 from fractures and contusions, 5 from burns and scalds, 5 from drowning, and 9 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 17 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—4 by accident from vehicles in the street; 3 by fall down stairs; 1 by fall from bed; 1 by fall from roof; 1 by fall into ship's hold; 1 by fall from swing; 1 by fall in road; 1 by fall against drawers; 1 by fall of bale; 2 by falls, the nature of which was not stated; and 1 by an unstated form of fracture. An inquest was held in each of these 17 cases except the last, which was certified by a registered medical practitioner. Six cases of suicide were registered, the corrected average being 8.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3318 births and 1593 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 31·3 and 15·0 per 1000 of the estimated population. In the Outer Ring 16 deaths from diarrhœa, 9 from whooping-cough, 5 from diphtheria, and 5 from measles were registered. The fatal cases of diphtheria included 2 in Croydon and 2 in Walthamstow sub-districts.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·75 ins.; the lowest reading was 29·25 ins. on Monday afternoon, and the highest 30·07 ins. on Friday morning. The mean temperature of the air was 56°·9, and 5°·8 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean was considerably below the average throughout the week, the greatest deficiency being 8°·3 on Tuesday, and 9°·5 on Wednesday. The direction of the wind was variable, and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 10·1 miles per hour, which was 0·1 mile below the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on five days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 4·29 inches. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 22·0 hours, against 23·1 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Finsbury Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylums Hospital, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly Deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.043 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ Those cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

§ The evidence at inquest is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS.

The deaths registered last week in TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS of England and Wales corresponded to an annual rate of 17·6 per 1000 of their aggregate population, which is estimated at *9,398,273 persons in the middle of this year. The deaths registered in each of the last four weeks in the several towns, alphabetically arranged, corresponded to the following annual rates per 1000:—

The highest annual death-rates, measured by last week's mortality, were:—from measles, 1·1 in Bradford; from scarlet fever, 1·3 in Blackburn; from whooping-cough, 1·0 in Manchester; and from diarrhæa, 1·7 in London, 2·0 in Preston, 2·2 in Norwich, 2·7 in Liverpool, and 2·8 in Leeds. The death-rate from "fever" did not reach 1·0 in any of the twenty-eight towns. The 33 deaths from diphtheria in these towns included 25 in London and 3 in Nottingham. Small-pox caused 3 deaths in Manchester, one in Nottingham, and one in Preston, but not one in London or in any of the twenty-four other great towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2228 BIRTHS and 1476 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 454, and the deaths 203, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 15·9 in each of the two preceding weeks, rose last week to 18·0, and exceeded the rate recorded in any week since April last. During the first six weeks of the current quarter the death-rate

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Nottingham, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and Cardiff over-stated.

averaged 16·0 per 1000, and was 5·4 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878-87.

The 1476 deaths included 51 from measles, 17 from scarlet fever, 25 from diphtheria, 27 from whooping-cough, 6 from enteric fever, 1 from an ill-defined form of continued fever, 138 from diarrhœa and dysentery, 5 from cholera and choleraic diarrhœa, and not one from small-pox or typhus; thus, 270 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 164 below the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 10; only 2 small-pox patients were under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals on Saturday last, and not one in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital. The fatal cases of measles, which had been 40 and 29 in the two preceding weeks, rose last week to 51, and exceeded the corrected average by 9; 4 belonged to Clerkenwell, 4 to Poplar, and 4 to Camberwell sanitary areas. The 17 deaths from scarlet fever showed a further slight decline from recent weekly numbers, and were 21 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Pancras, 2 to Bethnal Green, and 3 to Poplar sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum and London Fever Hospitals contained 821 scarlet fever patients, against numbers declining in the five preceding weeks from 924 to 828; 67 cases were admitted during the week, against 105, 87, and 73 in the three previous weeks. The fatal cases of diphtheria, which had been 15, 21, and 19 in the three previous weeks, rose last week to 25, and exceeded the corrected average by 9; 4 belonged to Kensington, 2 to Pancras, 3 to Islington, 3 to Hackney (including 2 in the German Hospital, admitted from Durrington Road, Homerton), 2 to St. George Southwark, and 3 to Lambeth sanitary areas. The 27 deaths from whooping-cough exceeded the number in the previous week by 2, but were 14 below the corrected average; 7 belonged to the North and 11 to the South groups of sanitary areas. The deaths attributed to diarrhœa and dysentery, which had been 62, 89, and 121 in the three previous weeks, further rose last week to 138, but were 119 below the corrected average; 130 were of children under five years of age, including 104 of infants under one year of age. The deaths of 4 infants were referred to cholera infantum or choleraic diarrhœa, and that of female, aged 29 years, in Plumstead, to choleraic diarrhœa; all these 5 deaths occurred in the South group of sanitary areas.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 15 and 9 in the two preceding weeks, further declined last week to 6, and were 12 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to the West and 2 to the South groups of sanitary areas. The death of a male, aged 22 years, was indefinitely referred to febricula. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 78 cases of enteric fever, but not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 8 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week, against 10 and 5 in the two previous weeks.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 160 and 167 in the two preceding weeks, further rose last week to 183, but were 4 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 56 deaths; 50 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 20 from fractures and contusions, 3 from burns and scalds, 12 from drowning, and 9 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 20 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—7 by accidents from vehicles in the street; 2 by accidents on railway; 1 by fall from ladder; 1 by fall from window; 1 by fall from factory loop-hole; 1 by fall from chair; 1 by fall from nurse's arms; 1 by fall in street; 3 by fall (one during intoxication), the nature of which was not stated, 1 by injury received while on toboggan-car, and 1 struck by swing. An inquest was held in each of these 20 cases. Five cases of suicide were registered, the corrected average being 9.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 2929 births and 1791 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 27·6 and 16·9 per 1000 of the estimated population. In the Outer Ring 21 deaths from diarrhœa, 4 from measles, and 4 from diphtheria were registered. The fatal cases of diarrhœa included 4 in Mortlake and 5 in Walthamstow sub-districts.

Professor Frankland's report upon the quality of the water supplied by the various companies to the Metropolitan area during July will be found on pages 327-328.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29.90 ins.; the lowest reading was 29.63 ins. on Sunday morning, and the highest 29.98 ins. on Monday morning. The mean temperature of the air was 63°.9, and 1°.2 above the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean was below the average on Sunday, Monday, and Saturday, while it showed an excess on each of the other days of the week; the deficiency was 8°.6 on Monday, and the excess 8°.6 on Thursday. The general direction of the wind was S.W., and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 10.7 miles per hour, which corresponded with the average in the same weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on two days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0.11 of an inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 47.5 hours, against 41.5 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

THE REGISTRAR GENERAL has to acknowledge the courtesy of the LONDON WATER COMPANIES who have furnished him with the average daily quantity of Water supplied during the month of JULY 1888; according to their returns 169,387,002 gallons or 769,603 cubic metres of water (equal to about as many tuns by measure, tons by weight,) were supplied daily; or 229 gallons (104.0 decalitres), rather more than a ton by weight, to each house, and 29.3 gallons (13.3 decalitres) to each person, against 33.3 gallons during July 1887.

ANALYSIS OF METROPOLITAN WATER SUPPLY DURING JULY.

Grove House, Pembroke Square, W.
10th August, 1888.

SIR,

I HAVE to report to you in the following Table the results of the chemical analyses of the waters supplied to the inner, and portions of the outer, circle of the Metropolis during the month of July.

I append, also, the results obtained in the analyses of the waters supplied to Birmingham and Glasgow by their respective Corporations. These analyses were made by Dr. Hill of Birmingham and Dr. Mills of Glasgow.

Taking the average amount of organic impurity contained in a given volume of the Kent Company's water during the nine years ending December 1876 as unity, the proportional amount contained in an equal volume of water supplied by each of the Metropolitan Water Companies and by the Tottenham Local Board of Health, was :—Kent 0.7, Colne Valley 0.8, Tottenham 0.8, New River 0.9, East London 2.1, Southwark 2.2, Lambeth 2.8, Chelsea 2.8, West Middlesex 3.7, Grand Junction 3.9.

The Thames water sent out by the Chelsea, West Middlesex, Southwark, Grand Junction, and Lambeth Companies contained in every case a markedly increased proportion of organic matter as compared with the previous month's samples. This increase is due to the heavy rainfall and swollen state of the river, although the samples were collected prior to the severest floods which occurred at the latter end of the month. All the samples were clear and bright.

The water principally derived from the River Lea, and supplied by the New River and East London Companies exhibited no material alteration as regards organic matter, the proportion present in the New River Company's supply being but little in excess of that in the deep well waters, whilst that in the East London Company's water was less than in any of the Thames supplies. Both samples were clear and bright.

The deep-well waters of the Kent and Colne Valleys Companies and of the Tottenham Local Board of Health contained, as usual, only a very small proportion of organic matter, and the Colne Valley Company by softening their supply with lime thereby rendered it also of excellent quality for washing and all other domestic purposes.

Seen through a stratum two feet deep, the waters presented the following appearances:—Kent, Colne Valley, and Tottenham, clear and colourless; New River, clear and nearly colourless; Chelsea, West Middlesex, Southwark, Grand Junction, Lambeth, and East London, clear and pale yellow.

Dr. Hill, F.I.C., the Medical Officer of Health for Birmingham, reports that the water supplied to that town "was somewhat inferior in quality owing to the heavy rain-fall."

Dr. Mills, F.R.S., of the Glasgow and West of Scotland Technical College reports that the water supplied to that city from Loch Katrine was "light brown in colour and contained a little suspended matter."

The Registrar General, &c. &c.

I am, &c.

E. FRANKLAND.

† Analysed by Dr. E. J. Mills, F.R.S., of the Glasgow and West of Scotland Technical College.

The numbers in columns 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, and 11, all relate to 100,000 parts of the water. The Table is to be read thus:—the Chelsea Company's water, collected on the 17th July at the Horseguards cab-rank, had a temperature of 16°·3 C.; 100,000 lbs. of it contained 24·62 lbs of solid matter; the organic substances, constituting a portion of this matter, contained ·139 lb of carbon and ·027 lb. of nitrogen. The above quantity of water also contained no ammonia, and ·159 lb. of nitrogen in the form of nitrates and nitrites, whilst the total amount of combined nitrogen in every form was ·186 lb. The above weight of water also contained 1·8 lbs. of chlorine; and 18·3 lbs. of carbonate of lime, or an equivalent quantity of other hardening or soap-destroying ingredients.

The numbers in the analytical Table can be converted into grains per imperial gallon by multiplying them by 7, and then moving the decimal point one place to the left. The same operation transforms the hardness in the Table into degrees of hardness on Clark's scale.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan and Hospital, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

The numbers in this column are the average weekly Deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.043 per cent. for increase of population.

As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

Those cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered medical man, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

The highest annual death-rates, measured by last week's mortality, were:—from measles, 1·4 in Bradford; from scarlet fever, 0·9 in Blackburn; from whooping-cough, 1·1 in Huddersfield and 1·3 in Wolverhampton; from "fever," 0·7 in Nottingham; and from diarrhœa, 2·0 in London, 2·3 in Preston, 2·3 in Salford, 2·5 in Leeds, 2·7 in Plymouth, 3·6 in Leicester, and 4·1 in Sheffield. The 23 deaths from diphtheria in these towns included 13 in London, 3 in Manchester, and 2 in Salford. Small-pox caused one death in Oldham, but not one in London or in any of the twenty-six other great towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2604 BIRTHS and 1330 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 187, and the deaths 310, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 15·9, 15·9, and 18·0 in the three preceding weeks, declined again last week to 16·2. During the first seven weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 16·0 per 1000, and was 5·2 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878-87.

The 1330 deaths included 33 from measles, 17 from scarlet fever, 13 from diphtheria, 20 from whooping-cough, 2 from typhus, 2 from enteric fever, 1 from an ill-defined form of continued fever, 162 from diarrhœa and dysentery, 4 from cholera and choleraic diarrhœa, and not one from small-pox; thus, 254 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 138 below the corrected average weekly number.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Newcastle-upon-Tyne and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Newcastle-upon-Tyne and Cardiff over-stated.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 8; only 3 small-pox patients were under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals on Saturday last, and the Highgate Small-pox Hospital is empty. The death of an infant aged 20 months was attributed to chicken-pox. The fatal cases of measles, which had been 29 and 51 in the two preceding weeks, declined again last week to 33, and were 10 below the corrected average; 3 belonged to Marylebone, 3 to Hampstead, 3 to Pancras, 3 to Stepney, and 7 to Poplar, sanitary areas. The 17 deaths from scarlet fever corresponded with the number in the previous week, and were 17 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Marylebone, 2 to Islington, 2 to Bethnal Green, and 4 to Mile End Old Town sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum and London Fever Hospitals contained 774 scarlet fever patients, against numbers declining in the six preceding weeks from 924 to 821; 66 cases were admitted during the week, against numbers declining from 105 to 67 in the four previous weeks. The fatal cases of diphtheria, which had been 19 and 25 in the two previous weeks, declined last week to 13, and were one below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Kensington, and 2 to St. George Southwark sanitary areas. The 20 deaths from whooping-cough showed a decline of 7 from the number in the previous week, and were 20 below the corrected average; 3 belonged to Pancras, 3 to Poplar, and 4 to Wandsworth sanitary areas. The deaths attributed to diarrhœa and dysentery, which had increased in the four preceding weeks from 62 to 138, further rose last week to 162, but were 63 below the corrected average; 152 were of children under five years of age, including 128 of infants under one year of age. The deaths of 3 infants were referred to cholera infantum or choleraic diarrhœa, and that of a male, aged 55 years, in Pancras, to choleraic diarrhœa.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 15, 9, and 6 in the three preceding weeks, further declined last week to 2, and were 15 below the corrected average; one belonged to Rotherhithe sanitary area, and the other was of a patient admitted to the Children's Hospital from Wimbledon. The 2 deaths referred to typhus were of an adult male, aged 62 years, in Suffolk Street, St. Martin in the Fields; and of a child, aged 7 years, in King Street, Rotherhithe. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 78 cases of enteric fever, but not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 7 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week, against 5 and 8 in the two previous weeks.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 160, 167, and 183 in the three preceding weeks, declined again last week to 167, and were 19 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 47 deaths; 37 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 19 from fractures and contusions, 10 from drowning, 1 from poison, and 5 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 19 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—5 by accidents from vehicles in streets; 3 by accidents on railway; 3 by fall from window; 1 by fall from scaffold; 1 by fall from loft; 1 by fall into dry dock; 1 by fall down stairs; 1 by fall, the nature of which was not stated; 1 by injury from lift; 1 by injury from falling wood; and 1 by fracture, the nature of which was not stated. An inquest was held in each of these 19 cases except of the last. Nine cases of suicide were registered, corresponding with the corrected average.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3372 births and 1649 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 31·8 and 15·6 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 31 deaths from diarrhœa, 8 from whooping-cough, 7 from measles, and 5 from diphtheria were registered. The fatal cases of diarrhœa included 9 in West Ham district and 9 in Tottenham sub-district; 4 deaths from measles occurred in Tottenham, and 2 of diphtheria in Croydon sub-districts.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·92 ins.; the lowest reading was 29·67 ins. on Monday morning, and the highest was 30·10 ins. at the end of the week. The mean temperature of the air was 56°·4, and 5°·8 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean showed a slight excess on Sunday, but was below the average on each of the other days of the week, the coldest days being Thursday and Friday. The direction of the wind was variable, and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 12·4 miles per hour, which was 2·4 miles above the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. No rain fell during the week. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 27·8 hours, against 36·4 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).
 The numbers in this column are the average weekly deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9-046 per cent. for increase of population.
 As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.
 Those cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When medical attendance does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered medical attendant, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."
 The evidence at inquest is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

The highest annual death-rates, measured by last week's mortality, were:—from measles, 2·0 in Bradford; from scarlet fever, 1·0 in Preston, 1·1 in Norwich and in Derby, and 2·2 in Blackburn; from whooping-cough, 1·0 in Sheffield and in Birkenhead, 1·1 in Manchester, and 1·9 in Wolverhampton; from "fever," 1·0 in Birkenhead; and from diarrhoea, 2·8 in Sheffield and in Bolton, 3·2 in Wolverhampton, 3·3 in Norwich, 3·7 in Salford, 3·8 in Liverpool, 4·5 in Preston, 5·2 in Leeds, and 5·7 in Leicester. The 25 deaths from diphtheria in these towns included 17 in London, and 3 in Manchester. Small-pox caused one death in Nottingham, and one in Oldham, but not one in London or in any of the twenty-seven other great towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2401 BIRTHS and 1438 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 300, and the deaths 115, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 15·9, 18·0, and 16·2 in the three preceding weeks, rose again last week to 17·5. During the first eight weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 16·2 per 1000, and was 4·7 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878–87.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last decennial period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Newcastle-upon-Tyne and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Newcastle-upon-Tyne and Cardiff over-stated.

† Including the Strand Union Workhouse at Edmonton, the Holborn Union Workhouse at Mitcham, and the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals outside Registration London.

The 1438 deaths included 47 from measles, 21 from scarlet fever, 17 from diphtheria, 28 from whooping-cough, 7 from enteric fever, 192 from diarrhoea and dysentery, 7 from cholera and choleraic diarrhoea, and not one from small-pox, typhus, or ill-defined forms of continued fever; thus, 319 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 36 below the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 9; only 3 small-pox patients were under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, and one in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital, on Saturday last. The fatal cases of measles, which had been 51 and 33 in the two preceding weeks, rose again last week to 47, and exceeded the corrected average by 12; 4 belonged to Marylebone, 5 to Pancras, 5 to Islington, 4 to Mile End Old Town, and 4 to Poplar, sanitary areas. The 21 deaths from scarlet fever showed a slight increase upon recent weekly numbers, but were 20 below the corrected average; 5 belonged to Bethnal Green, 2 to Bermondsey, and 3 to Battersea sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum and London Fever Hospitals contained 783 scarlet fever patients, against numbers declining in the seven preceding weeks from 924 to 774; 83 cases were admitted during the week, against numbers declining from 105 to 66 in the five previous weeks. The fatal cases of diphtheria, which had been 25 and 13 in the two previous weeks, rose again last week to 17, and were one below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Fulham (29, Irene Road), 2 to Bethnal Green, and 2 to St. George Southwark sanitary areas. The 28 deaths from whooping-cough showed an increase of 8 upon the number in the previous week, but were 14 below the corrected average; 6 belonged to Pancras sanitary area. The deaths attributed to diarrhoea and dysentery, which had increased in the five preceding weeks from 62 to 162, further rose last week to 192, and exceeded the corrected average by 7; 180 were of children under five years of age, including 138 of infants under one year of age. The 7 deaths referred to cholera included 6 of infants under three years of age from cholera infantum or choleraic diarrhoea, and one of an adult, aged 47 years, in Stepney, from choleraic diarrhoea.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had declined in the four preceding weeks from 15 to 2, rose again last week to 7, but were 8 below the corrected average. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 71 cases of enteric fever, but not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 10 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week, against 8 and 7 in the two previous weeks.

The death of a hair-dresser, aged 32 years, on 18th instant, in St. Thomas's Hospital, resulted from hydrophobia.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 183 and 167 in the two preceding weeks, were last week 172, and 7 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 47 deaths; 35 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 14 from fractures and contusions, 4 from burns and scalds, 6 from drowning, and 5 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 14 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—2 by accidents from vehicles in streets; 3 by accidents on railways; 1 by fall from window; 3 by fall from scaffold or ladder; 2 by fall down stairs or steps; 1 by fall from roof; 1 by injuries from fall of ceiling; and 1 by fracture, the cause of which was not stated. An inquest was held in each of these cases except the last. Nine cases of suicide were registered, exceeding the corrected average by 2.

GREATHER LONDON.

In Greater London 3167 births and 1821 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 29·9 and 17·2 per 1000 of the population. In the Outer Ring 58 deaths from diarrhoea, 13 from measles, and 8 from diphtheria were registered. The fatal cases of diarrhoea included 15 in Tottenham, 9 in West Ham, and 6 in Enfield sub-districts. Three deaths from measles were returned in Croydon, in Willesden, and in Tottenham sub-districts; and the fatal cases of diphtheria included 2 in Edmonton and 2 in Walthamstow sub-districts.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·67 ins.; the highest reading was 30·10 ins. at the beginning of the week, and the lowest was 29·43 ins. on Friday evening. The mean temperature of the air was 60°·0, and 1°·3 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean was below the average during the first five, and showed an excess on each of the last two days of the week. The general direction of the wind was S.W., and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 9·1 miles per hour, which was 0·4 miles below the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on five days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0·81 in. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 29·2 hours, against 37·6 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.046 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ Those cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered medical man, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

§ The evidence at inquest is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

The height of the cistern of the barometer is 159 feet above the mean level of the sea; no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations are usually taken at 8h. A.M.; noon; 3h. P.M.; and 9h. P.M. The means of the eye-readings of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer, are eye-converted into mean daily values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1875 for the barometer, and during the twenty years ending 1888 for the thermometers. With the corrected mean reading of the dry bulb thermometer is combined the corrected mean of the readings of the maximum and minimum thermometers, forming the mean daily value of temperature of the air (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature, and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glashier's Hygro-metrical Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 20 years ending 1868, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 16 years ending 1875.

In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and - "lower," than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation, London.

The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are: +, P. positive; N. negative; w. weak; m. moderate; s. strong; and v. variable.

The numbers in column 23, derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.

The reading of the barometer deduced from 30.10 in. at the beginning of the week to 29.46 in. by 9h. A.M. on the 21st; increased to 29.79 in. by 9h. P.M. on the 22nd; increased to 29.70 in. by 9h. A.M. on the 23rd; and increased to 29.70 in. by the end of the week.

Fine and partially cloudy till evening; generally cloudy at night.

Overcast. Rain fell at night.

Generally cloudy. Showery. Fine in afternoon.

Fine generally. Thunder at noon. Heavy showers of brief duration shortly after noon and in P.M. At night cloudless and very fine.

Cloudy and showery till afternoon; fine afterwards.

Fine with variable amounts of cloud in morning; generally overcast afterwards. Heavy rain in evening, with thunder.

Fine; generally cloudy in morning; afterwards small amounts of cloud prevailed.

TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS.

The deaths registered last week in TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS of England and Wales corresponded to an annual rate of 17·5 per 1000 of their aggregate population, which is estimated at *9,398,273 persons in the middle of this year. The deaths registered in each of the last four weeks in the several towns, alphabetically arranged, corresponded to the following annual rates per 1000:—

The highest annual death-rates, measured by last week's mortality, were:—from whooping-cough, 1·1 in Norwich and 1·3 in Halifax; from "fever," 1·0 in Birkenhead and 1·2 in Sunderland; and from diarrhœa, 3·0 in Brighton, 3·1 in Sheffield, 3·7 in Salford, 4·6 in Leicester, 5·1 in Preston, and 6·2 in Leeds. The death-rates from measles and scarlet fever did not reach 1·0 per 1000 in any of the twenty-eight towns. The 35 deaths from diphtheria in these towns included 23 in London, 3 in Manchester, 2 in Portsmouth, and 2 in Newcastle-upon-Tyne. Small-pox caused 2 deaths in Preston, but not one in London or in any of the twenty-six other great towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2508 BIRTHS and 1342 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 135, and the deaths 143, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 18·0, 16·2, and 17·5 in the three preceding weeks, declined again last week to 16·4. During the first nine weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 16·2 per 1000, and was 4·4 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878–87.

The 1342 deaths included 39 from measles, 15 from scarlet fever, 23 from diphtheria, 24 from whooping-cough, 10 from enteric fever, one from an undefined form of continued fever, 144 from diarrhœa and dysentery, 2 from cholera and choleraic diarrhœa, and not one from small-pox or typhus; thus, 258 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 58 below the corrected average weekly number.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Newcastle-upon-Tyne and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Newcastle-upon-Tyne and Cardiff over-stated.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 7; only 2 small-pox patients were under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, and one in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital, on Saturday last. The fatal cases of measles, which had been 51, 33, and 47 in the three preceding weeks, declined again last week to 39, but exceeded the corrected average by 5; 5 belonged to Pancras and 5 to Poplar sanitary areas. The 15 deaths from scarlet fever showed a decline of 6 from the number in the previous week, and were 23 below the corrected average; 3 belonged to St. Luke, 3 to Bethnal Green, and 2 to Lambeth sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum and London Fever Hospitals contained 793 scarlet fever patients, against 774 and 783 in the two preceding weeks; 93 cases were admitted during the week, against 66 and 83 in the two previous weeks. The fatal cases of diphtheria, which had been 13 and 17 in the two preceding weeks, further rose last week to 23, and exceeded the corrected average by 7; 3 (admitted to the workhouse from Wheatstone Road) belonged to Kensington, 2 to Clerkenwell, 2 (in Eastfield Street) to Stepney, 2 to Mile End Old Town, and 2 to Wandsworth sanitary areas. One of the two fatal cases of diphtheria belonging to Clerkenwell was admitted to Bartholomew's Hospital from 16, Myddleton Place, making the third death from this disease in one family. The 24 deaths from whooping-cough were fewer by 4 than the number in the previous week, and were 10 below the corrected average; 3 belonged to Paddington, 3 to St. George Southwark, and 3 to Lambeth sanitary area. The deaths attributed to diarrhœa and dysentery, which had increased in the six preceding weeks from 62 to 192, declined last week to 144, and were 18 below the corrected average; 136 were of children under five years of age, including 112 of infants under one year of age. The 2 deaths referred to cholera included one of an infant aged 7 months from cholera infantum, and one of a child aged 9 years from choleraic diarrhœa.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been but 2 and 7 in the two preceding weeks, further rose last week to 10, but were 6 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Islington sanitary area. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 73 cases of enteric fever, but not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 7 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week, against 7 and 10 in the two previous weeks.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 167 and 172 in the two preceding weeks, declined last week to 130, and were 45 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 53 deaths; 48 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 29 from fractures and contusions, 2 from burns and scalds, 8 from drowning, and 4 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 29 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—9 by accidents from vehicles or horses in streets; 4 by accidents on railways; 2 by fall from window; 2 by fall down stairs; 1 by fall from loft; 1 by fall in street; 1 by fall from bed; 1 by fall from bench; 1 by fall, the nature of which was not stated; 1 by being crushed between two stones; 3 by blow from heavy substance; and 3 by fracture, the cause of which was not stated. An inquest was held in each case except in one of the last-mentioned cases of fracture. Four cases of suicide were registered, the corrected average being 7.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3241 births and 1644 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 30·6 and 15·5 per 1000 of the estimated population. In the Outer Ring 40 deaths from diarrhœa, 7 from whooping-cough, and 5 from scarlet fever were registered. Of the deaths referred to diarrhœa, 8 occurred in Tottenham, 3 in Chiswick, 3 in Willesden, 3 in Stratford, 3 in West Ham, and 3 in Leyton sub-districts.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5).

* The numbers in this column are the average weekly Deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.046 per cent. for increase of population.

† As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used.

‡ These cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When the medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered practitioner, the case is returned under the heading "no statement."

§ The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

The height of the cistern of the barometer is 159 feet above the mean level of the sea; no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations are usually taken at 9h. A.M.; noon; 3h. P.M.; and 9h. P.M. The means of the eye-readings of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer, are converted into mean daily values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1873 for the barometer, and during the twenty years ending 1868 for the thermometers. With the corrected mean readings of the dry bulb thermometer is combined the corrected mean of the readings of the maximum and minimum thermometers, forming the mean daily value of temperature of the air (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glaisher's Hygro-metrical Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 20 years ending 1888, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 16 years ending 1875.

In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and - "lower," than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are +, -, E, positive; N, negative; w, weak; m, moderate; s, strong; and v, variable.

The numbers in column 29, derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.

The reading of the barometer increased from 29.70 in. at the beginning of the week to 29.80 in. by 9h. A.M. on the 28th; increased to 29.92 in. by 9h. on the 29th; increased to 29.93 in. by 9h. on the 30th; and decreased to 29.92 in. by 9h. on the 31st.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Generally cloudy till evening; slight rain in afternoon; night fine.

Cloudy; fine; solar halo visible before noon.

TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS.

The deaths registered last week in TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT TOWNS of England and Wales corresponded to an annual rate of 17·8 per 1000 of their aggregate population, which is estimated at *9,398,273 persons in the middle of this year. The deaths registered in each of the last four weeks in the several towns, alphabetically arranged, corresponded to the following annual rates per 1000:—

| Leeds -      | 19·0         | 24·1        | 25·3        | 24·4        | Sunderland -       | 13·4         | 13·1        | 20·6        | 15·4        |
| Leicester*   | 16·0         | 27·4        | 21·0        | 22·8        | Wolverhampton -    | 16·6         | 28·7        | 14·7        | 15·3        |

The highest annual death-rates, measured by last week's mortality, were:—from measles, 1·1 in Leicester; from scarlet fever, 3·1 in Blackburn; from whooping-cough, 2·2 in Norwich; and from diarrhoea, 3·6 in Birmingham and in Sunderland, 4·1 in Bolton, 4·7 in Sheffield, 5·3 in Leeds, 6·1 in Norwich, 8·9 in Leicester, and 9·1 in Preston. The death-rate from "fever" did not reach 1·0 per 1000 in any of the twenty-eight towns. The 28 deaths from diphtheria in these towns included 18 in London, 2 in Brighton, 2 in Manchester, 2 in Sheffield, and 3 in Newcastle-upon-Tyne. Small-pox caused no death in any of the twenty-eight great towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2475 BIRTHS and 1316 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 264, and the deaths 130, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 17·5 and 16·4 in the two preceding weeks, further declined last week to 16·0. During the first ten weeks of the current quarter the death-rate averaged 16·2 per 1000, and was 4·1 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878–87.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Newcastle-upon-Tyne and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Newcastle-upon-Tyne and Cardiff over-stated.

The 1316 deaths included 26 from measles, 19 from scarlet fever, 18 from diphtheria, 32 from whooping-cough, 11 from enteric fever, one from an undefined form of continued fever, 131 from diarrhœa and dysentery, 3 from cholera and choleraic diarrhœa, and not one from small-pox or typhus; thus, 241 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 43 below the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 7; no small-pox patients were under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, and only one in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital, on Saturday last. The fatal cases of measles, which had been 47 and 39 in the two preceding weeks, further declined last week to 26, but exceeded the corrected average by 4; 4 belonged to Marylebone, 3 to Pancras, and 4 to Poplar sanitary areas. The 19 deaths from scarlet fever showed an increase of 4 upon the number in the previous week, but were 20 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Islington, 2 to Bethnal Green, 2 to Mile End Old Town, 3 to Poplar, and 2 to Lewisham sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum and London Fever Hospitals contained 805 scarlet fever patients, against 774, 783, and 793 in the three preceding weeks; 79 cases were admitted during the week, against 66, 83, and 93 in the three previous weeks. The fatal cases of diphtheria, which had been 13, 17, and 23 in the three preceding weeks, declined again last week to 18, but exceeded the corrected average by 2; 3 belonged to Kensington, 2 to Marylebone, 2 to Hackney, 2 to Shoreditch, 2 to Camberwell, and 2 (at 50, Dartmouth Road,) to Lewisham sanitary areas. The 32 fatal cases of whooping-cough exceeded the number returned in any recent week, but were 5 below the corrected average; 3 belonged to Hackney, 3 to Clerkenwell, and 4 to Shoreditch sanitary areas. The deaths attributed to diarrhœa and dysentery, which had been 192 and 144 in the two preceding weeks, further declined last week to 131, and were 6 below the corrected average; 125 were of children under five years of age, including 96 of infants under one year of age. The deaths of 3 infants under the age of one year were referred to cholera sporadica, cholera infantum, and choleraic diarrhœa.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 2, 7, and 10 in the three preceding weeks, further rose last week to 11, but were 8 below the corrected average; 3 belonged to Islington and 2 to Mile End Old Town sanitary areas. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 74 cases of enteric fever, but not one of typhus, on Saturday last; 10 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week, against 10 and 7 in the two previous weeks.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 172 and 130 in the two preceding weeks, rose again last week to 148, but were 21 below the corrected average.

Different forms of violence caused 32 deaths; 28 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 10 from fractures and contusions, 4 from burns and scalds, 5 from drowning, and 6 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 10 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—1 by accident on railway; 3 by fall down stairs; 1 by fall from roof; 1 by fall in street; 1 by fall, the nature of which was not stated; 1 by injuries received from falling timber; 1 by being crushed by barge; and 1 by fracture the cause of which was not stated. An inquest was held in each of these cases. Three deaths by suicide were registered, the corrected average being 8.

The death of a journeyman tailor, formerly of Whitechapel, whose age was stated to be 103 years, occurred on 4th instant, in the Hand-in-hand Asylum at Hackney.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3249 births and 1630 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 30·7 and 15·4 per 1000 of the estimated population. In the Outer Ring 33 deaths from diarrhœa, 7 from measles, 6 from scarlet fever, and 5 from whooping-cough, were registered. Of the fatal cases of diarrhœa, 6 occurred in Stratford, 4 in Tottenham, 3 in Bromley, 3 in Willesden, and 3 in Leyton sub-districts. The deaths from measles included 3 in Tottenham and 2 in West Ham sub-districts; and 4 of the 6 fatal cases of scarlet fever occurred in West Ham sub-district.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 29·90 ins.; the lowest reading was 29·75 ins. on Monday afternoon, and the highest was 30·22 ins. at the end of the week. The mean temperature of the air was 57·1, and 2·4 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean showed a slight excess on Wednesday, but was below the average during the other days of the week. The general direction of the wind was South-Westerly, and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 12·6 miles per hour, which was 1·6 miles above the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on six days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0·16 of an inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 20·8 hours, against 27·2 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

THE REGISTRAR GENERAL has to acknowledge the courtesy of the LONDON WATER COMPANIES who have furnished him with the average daily quantity of Water supplied during the month of AUGUST 1888; according to their returns 172,869,385 gallons or 785,425 cubic metres of water (equal to about as many tuns by measure, tons by weight,) were supplied daily; or 233 gallons (105·9 decalitres), rather more than a ton by weight, to each house, and 29·9 gallons (13·6 decalitres) to each person, against 31·3 gallons during August 1887.

ANALYSIS OF METROPOLITAN WATER SUPPLY DURING AUGUST.

Grove House, Pembridge Square, W.,
7th September, 1888.

SIR,

I HAVE to report to you in the following Table the results of the chemical analyses of the waters supplied to the inner, and portions of the outer, circle of the Metropolis during the month of August.

I append, also, the results obtained in the analyses of the waters supplied to Birmingham and Glasgow by their respective Corporations. These analyses were made by Dr. Hill of Birmingham and Dr. Mills of Glasgow.

Taking the average amount of organic impurity contained in a given volume of the Kent Company's water during the nine years ending December 1876 as unity, the proportional amount contained in an equal volume of water supplied by each of the Metropolitan Water Companies and by the Tottenham Local Board of Health, was:—Kent 0·7, New River 0·9, Tottenham 1·1, East London 1·3, Colne Valley 1·5, Grand Junction 1·88, West Middlesex 1·8, Lambeth 2·3, Southwark 2·4, Chelsea 2·8.

The average proportion of organic matter in the Thames water sent out by the Chelsea, West Middlesex, Southwark, Grand Junction, and Lambeth Companies which had in the previous month exhibited an increase, suffered in August an almost equally marked diminution, the latter being most conspicuous in the samples of the West Middlesex and Grand Junction Companies' supplies. All the samples were clear and bright.

The water principally derived from the Lea, and distributed by the New River and East London Companies contained less organic matter than any of the Thames supplies. Both samples were clear and bright.

The deep-well waters of the Kent and Colne Valleys Companies and of the Tottenham Local Board of Health contained, as usual, only a very small proportion of organic matter, and the Colne Valley Company by softening their supply with lime thereby rendered it also of excellent quality for washing and all other domestic purposes. The sample of the Colne Valley Company's supply was very slightly turbid, apparently due to the presence of a trace of carbonate of lime in suspension.

Seen through a stratum two feet deep, the waters presented the following appearances:—Kent, New River, and Tottenham, clear and colourless; East London, clear and nearly colourless; West Middlesex, Southwark, Grand Junction, and Lambeth, clear and very pale yellow; Chelsea, clear and pale yellow; Colne Valley, very slightly turbid and colourless.

Dr. Hill, F.I.C., the Medical Officer of Health for Birmingham, reports that the water supplied to that town "was both physically and chemically considerably purer than in the previous month."

Dr. Mills, F.R.S., of the Glasgow and West of Scotland Technical College reports that the water supplied to that city from Loch Katrine was "light brown in colour and contained a little suspended matter."

* Analysed by Dr. Alfred Hill, F.I.C., Medical Officer of Health and Analyst to the Borough.

† Analysed by Dr. E. J. Mills, F.R.S., of the Glasgow and West of Scotland Technical College.

All the numbers in columns 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, and 11, relate to 100,000 parts of the water. The Table is to be read thus:—the Chelsea Company's water, collected on the 30th August at the Horseguards cab-rank, had a temperature of 17°·0 C.; 100,000 lbs. of it contained 27·28 lbs. of solid matter; the organic substances, constituting a portion of this matter, contained ·136 lb. of carbon and ·031 lb. of nitrogen. The above quantity of water also contained no ammonia, and ·186 lb. of nitrogen in the form of nitrates and nitrites, whilst the total amount of combined nitrogen in every form was ·217 lb. The above quantity of water also contained 1·7 lbs. of chlorine; and 19·1 lbs. of carbonate of lime, or an equivalent quantity of other hardening or soap-destroying ingredients.

The numbers in the analytical Table can be converted into grains per imperial gallon by multiplying them by 7, and then moving the decimal point one place to the left. The same operation transforms the hardness in the Table into degrees of hardness on Clark's scale.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylums Hospitals, outside Registration London (see Table 5). The numbers in this column are the average weekly Deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.046 per cent. for increase of population. As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used. These cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered medical attendant, the case is returned under the heading "no statement." The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

GENERAL REMARKS.

The height of the cistern of the barometer is 169 feet above the mean level of the sea; no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations are usually taken at 9h. a.m., noon; 3h. p.m.; and 9h. p.m. The means of the eye-readings of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer, are converted into mean daily values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1873 for the barometer, and during the twenty years ending 1868 for the thermometers. With the corrected mean reading of the dry bulb thermometer combined the corrected mean of the readings of the maximum and minimum thermometers, forming the mean daily value of temperature of the maximum (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glaisher's Hygro-metrical Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 20 years ending 1868, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometer records for the 10 years ending 1872.

In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and — "lower," than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are:—P. positive; N. negative; W. weak; M. moderate; S. strong; and V. variable.

The numbers in column 29, derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright shining on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.

The reading of the barometer decreased from 29.91 in. at the beginning of the week to 29.75 in. by 3h. p.m. on the 3rd; increased to 29.94 in. by 9h. p.m. on the 8th, and decreased to 29.84 in. by 3h. p.m. on the 9th.

Generally overcast. Showery.

Overcast and showery in morning; fine afterwards. At night cloudless.

Fine and partially cloudy till afternoon; overcast afterwards. Rain at night.

Generally overcast; showery in morning.

Cloudy and showery in morning; fine afterwards. Cloudless at night.

Fine generally; partially cloudy till evening, and one or two slight showers fell. Cloudless at night.

Fine; cloudy.

The highest annual death-rates, measured by last week's mortality, were:—from scarlet fever, 1·1 in Derby and 2·6 in Blackburn; from whooping-cough, 2·0 in Halifax and 2·2 in Norwich; from diarrhoea, 4·8 in Brighton, 4·9 in Leeds, 5·2 in Sheffield, 5·3 in Leicester, and 7·1 in Preston; and from "fever," 1·0 in Birkenhead. The death-rate from measles did not reach 1·0 per 1000 in any of the twenty-eight towns. The 35 deaths from diphtheria in these towns included 18 in London, 2 in Brighton, 2 in Portsmouth, 3 in Manchester, 2 in Salford, and 2 in Sheffield. Small-pox caused one death in Preston, but not one in London, or in any of the twenty-six other great towns.

LONDON.

In LONDON† 2488 BIRTHS and 1331 DEATHS were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 217, and the deaths 77, below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per 1000 from all causes, which had been 17·5, 16·4, and 16·0 in the three preceding weeks, rose again last week to 16·2. During the eleven weeks ending on Saturday last, the death-rate averaged 16·2 per 1000, and was 3·8 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878–87.

* The population of each of the 28 towns is estimated on the hypothesis that the rate of increase in the last intercensal period has been maintained since 1881. There are, however, reasons (derived from the numbers of inhabited houses on the rate books) to believe that by this method the populations of Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are over-estimated, and those of Newcastle-upon-Tyne and Cardiff under-estimated; if this be the case, it would follow that the death-rates given above for Leicester, Salford, and Bradford are under-stated, and those for Newcastle-upon-Tyne and Cardiff over-stated.

† Including the Strand Union Workhouse at Edmonton, the Holborn Union Workhouse at Mitcham, and the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals outside Registration London.

The 1331 deaths included 27 from measles, 24 from scarlet fever, 18 from diphtheria, 31 from whooping-cough, 12 from enteric fever, one from an ill-defined form of continued fever, 122 from diarrhœa and dysentery, and one from choleraic diarrhœa; thus, 236 deaths were referred to these diseases, being 19 below the corrected average weekly number.

No death from small-pox was registered, the corrected average being 6; no small-pox patients were under treatment in the Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals, and only one in the Highgate Small-pox Hospital, on Saturday last. The fatal cases of measles, which had been 47, 39, and 26 in the three preceding weeks, were last week 27, and exceeded the corrected average by 9; 3 belonged to Pancras, 4 to Bethnal Green, 4 to St. George-in-the-East, and 3 to Stepney sanitary areas. The 24 deaths from scarlet fever showed a further increase upon recent weekly numbers, but were 15 below the corrected average; 3 belonged to Islington, 2 to Hackney, 4 to Bethnal Green, 2 to Poplar, 2 to St. George Southwark, 2 to Newington, 2 to Lambeth, and 2 to Wandsworth sanitary areas. At the end of the week the Metropolitan Asylum and London Fever Hospitals contained 826 scarlet fever patients, against numbers increasing from 774 to 805 in the three preceding weeks; 93 cases were admitted during the week, against 93 and 79 in the two previous weeks. The 18 fatal cases of diphtheria corresponded both with the number in the preceding week, and with the corrected average; 3 belonged to Paddington, 2 to Kensington, and 2 to Hackney sanitary areas. The 31 deaths from whooping-cough were within one of the number in the previous week, and were 3 below the corrected average; 3 belonged to Pancras, and 4 to Camberwell sanitary areas. The deaths attributed to diarrhœa and dysentery, which had been 192, 144, and 131 in the three preceding weeks, further declined last week to 122, but exceeded the corrected average by 9; 113 were of children under five years of age, including 87 of infants under one year of age. The death of an infant aged 5 months was referred to choleraic diarrhœa.

The deaths referred to enteric fever, which had been 2, 7, 10, and 11 in the four preceding weeks, further rose last week to 12, but were 8 below the corrected average; 2 belonged to Marylebone, and 3 to Lambeth sanitary areas. The death of a child aged 2 years was indefinitely referred to low fever. The Metropolitan Asylum Hospitals contained 76 cases of enteric fever, and one of typhus, on Saturday last; 11 cases of enteric fever were admitted during the week, against 7 and 10 in the two previous weeks.

The deaths referred to diseases of the respiratory organs, which had been 130 and 148 in the two preceding weeks, further rose last week to 184, and exceeded the corrected average by 2.

Different forms of violence caused 61 deaths; 45 were the result of negligence or accident, among which were 18 from fractures and contusions, 7 from burns and scalds, 5 from drowning, and 12 of infants under one year of age from suffocation. The 18 deaths from fractures and contusions were thus caused:—6 by accidents from vehicles in street; 1 by accident on railway; 1 by fall from scaffold; 1 by fall from roof; 1 by fall down stairs; 1 by fall out of bed; 1 by fall from chair; 1 by fall against bedstead; 1 by fall from nurse's arms; 2 by fall, the nature of which was not stated; 1 by striking head against wall; and 1 by injuries received from falling board. An inquest was held in each of these cases. Fifteen cases of suicide were registered, the corrected average being 6.

GREATER LONDON.

In Greater London 3285 births and 1671 deaths were registered, corresponding to annual rates of 31·0 and 15·8 per 1000 of the estimated population. In the Outer Ring 34 deaths from diarrhœa, 7 from diphtheria, and 5 from "fever," were registered. Of the fatal cases of diarrhœa, 8 occurred in West Ham and 3 in Richmond sub-districts. The 7 deaths from diphtheria included 2 in Croydon sub-district.

METEOROLOGY.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean reading of the barometer last week was 30·09 ins.; the lowest reading was 29·94 ins. on Monday morning, and the highest was 30·32 ins. on Thursday morning. The mean temperature of the air was 54°·5, and 3°·4 below the average in the corresponding weeks of the 20 years ending 1868. The mean was below the average on each of the first six days of the week, but showed an excess on Saturday. The direction of the wind was variable, and the horizontal movement of the air averaged 7·7 miles per hour, which was 4·0 miles below the average in the corresponding weeks of 16 years. Rain fell on two days of the week, to the aggregate amount of 0·06 of an inch. The duration of registered bright sunshine in the week was 42·4 hours, against 54·7 hours at Glynde Place, Lewes.

NOTE.—The figures in this Table include deaths of London residents in the Strand and Holborn Union Workhouses, and in the Metropolitan Asylums Hospital, outside Registration London (see Table 5). The numbers in this column are the average weekly deaths for the ten years 1878-87, raised by 9.04 per cent. for increase of population. As the ten years average could not be correctly ascertained, the average for the six years 1882-7 has been used. In those cases of small-pox only are returned as "vaccinated" or as "unvaccinated" which are so certified by registered medical men. When medical attendant does not certify that the deceased has, or has not, been vaccinated, or when the cause of death is not certified by a registered medical man, the case is returned under the heading "no statement." The evidence at inquests is often insufficient to enable the Coroner to certify whether a violent death be the result of accident, murder, manslaughter, or suicide. All such cases are classed under "accident or negligence."

The height of the cistern of the barometer is 159 feet above the mean level of the sea; no correction has been applied to the readings to reduce to sea level.

Observations are usually taken at 9h. A.M.; noon; 3h. P.M.; and 9h. P.M. The means of the eye-readings of the barometer, the dry bulb thermometer, and the wet bulb thermometer, are converted into mean daily values by the application of corrections deduced from a discussion of the photographic records made during the twenty years ending 1873 for the barometer, and during the twenty years ending 1888 for the thermometers. With the corrected mean reading of the dry bulb thermometer is combined the corrected mean of the readings of the maximum and minimum thermometers, forming the mean daily value of temperature of the air (column 8). The mean daily dew point temperature and degree of humidity are deduced from the mean daily values of the dry and wet bulb thermometers by Glasher's Hygro-metrical Tables.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from a discussion of the photographic records made at Greenwich during the 20 years ending 1888, and that of horizontal movement of the air from a discussion of the anemometric records for the 10 years ending 1875.

In reading the columns 9 and 25 it will be borne in mind that + indicates "higher," and - "lower," than the average.

The thermometers in the water of the Thames are suspended at a depth of two feet below the surface, at the end of one of the jetties of the Foreign Cattle Market at Deptford, and their readings are registered by the Clerk of the Market, under instructions from the Corporation of London.

The record of Electricity is derived from Thomson's self-registering Electrometer. The symbols employed are:—P. positive; N. negative; w. weak; m. moderate; s. strong; and v. variable.

The numbers in column 23 derived from the Campbell-Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The results of all the meteorological observations are to be understood as applying to the civil day, or from midnight to midnight.
